Immortal Soul Line VI
Shifting Dimensions to Retrieve Soul Artifacts

Spirit Walking to Defeat Darkness

Shaman hail from ethereal realms where change and energy fluctuations dominate the celestial landscape. Shifting between dimensions, these ancient mystics work their magic and learn to navigate the elusive space-time continuum. A gifted Shaman serves humanity by retrieving precious soul memories. By reuniting these fragments with the over-soul guiding an individual's current incarnation, peace is obtained, and a soul's contracted destiny can begin to unfold.

Using the gifts bestowed upon them through their ancient soul lineage, Shaman become indispensable to humanity.

With practice, these Mystics learn how to move between realms, travel through time, shift into multiple forms, tackle the demons and creatures of the astral planes, and communicate with innumerable species. This array of talents guarantees them a place of respect in many cultures around the world.

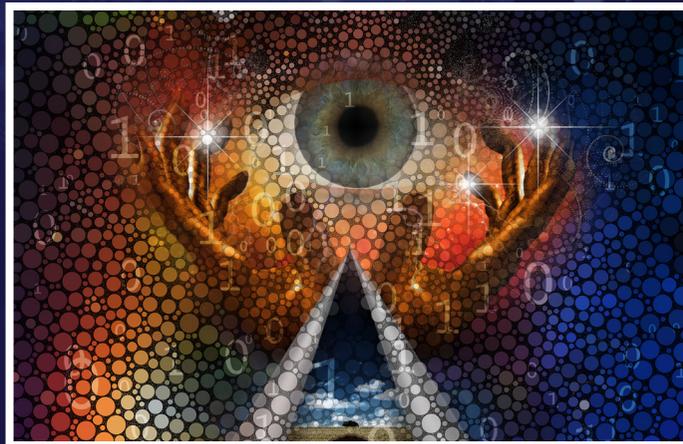

Having a highly active energy center located at the third eye, the indigo vortex known as the sixth chakra, these souls excel at intuitive and meditative activities. With so many talents, they have many options when it comes to choosing how to use their abilities.

Many become experts at astral and other-dimensional work doing such things as exorcisms, portal work, shape-shifting, and time manipulation. Others find they enjoy healing and hands-on experiences. Others become renowned for their dream interpretations and precognitive skills.

One of the challenges for the Shaman is the tendency to move in too many directions at once. Because their interests are so varied and because they're drawn to exploration and adventure, they might find themselves exhausted from taking on too much, spreading themselves too thin, and travelling from one dimension to the next without proper recuperation periods.

Another temptation for the Mystical Shaman is to become reliant on mind-altering drugs. Hallucinogens and other substances can enhance the Shaman's natural abilities when visiting other realms and can also expand the Shaman's experiences during meditation.

While these additives may seem to help the Shaman gain experience and knowledge, they can lead to unwanted consequences. The Shaman may become dependent on them instead of developing innate abilities. Also, these ingredients can weaken the Shaman's naturally resilient aura.

This makes extra-dimensional travel more dangerous as a damaged aura fails to shield the traveler from harm. With proper usage and correct intention, some drugs can be used, but Shaman must guard against the downside risks if they want to achieve their ultimate destiny.

Do you experience vivid dreams that you want to share with close family and friends? Are you blessed with an active imagination that leads you into areas of extra-dimensional exploration? Do you love to travel and visit new cultures? Are you naturally adventurous and ready to leap into challenging situations? Are you drawn to communicate with and understand other creatures, animals and off-world species?

If these ideas sound familiar and exciting, chances are good that you've emerged from the Immortal Soul Lines of the Mystical Shaman. With patience and practice, you'll be able to communicate with all species through mastering eternal language, you'll travel through time at will, and you'll call many worlds home. You'll mend the souls of those you love and fulfill your own priceless calling in the process!
